Head's Message

Our value this week has been aspiration, which means we have been aiming high and dreaming big! Many of the children have been encouraged to set ambitious goals for the academic year ahead so it looks set to be an impressive year!

Next week class teachers will commence introductory workshops for all parents and carers to provide key information about the year ahead and answer any questions you may have. Please find dates and times noted within this newsletter.

Congratulations to the children, who were rewarded with a non-uniform day for their polite manners and behaviour in the lunch hall last term. The competition for the next non-uniform day is already rife between the sittings, impeccable manners and polite conversation will always win!

Enjoy the weekend!
