

Head's Message

Our school value this week has been aspiration, and I have seen lots of children showing real aspiration, particularly in Carroll Class. The (now not so new) Reception class are fully settled into their classroom and routines and have been working hard to achieve their goals.

The Reception class teaching team have worked tirelessly to ensure that all children are having a truly positive experience and should be commended for their commitment and hard work. Well done Mrs Hyslop, Mr Rodwell and Miss Gyimah!

Deputy Head's Message

Thank you to Katie and Piers for an inspiring assembly about the world's largest lesson on the seventeen aspirational Global Goals. The children thoroughly enjoyed learning how they can play a part in changing the whole world!

Home Learning

- Reception: Please complete your Proud Book.
- Year 1: Find out about your favourite vegetable. How do you like to eat it?
- Year 2: Find facts about the Honey Badger.
- Year 3: Draw a detailed picture of Stig's cave and label what is inside it.
- Year 4: Carry out any research that is needed for your group's assembly presentation. E.g. what were school uniforms like in the Victorian Era?

Parking Outside School

Please be mindful that the new turning circle outside school is not for car parking, of any length of time. Whilst other cars may be parked there illegally, please note that it is a double yellow line and only meant for cars to turn around in. Our builders and the council are aware of this. Additionally, we do hope that you use the school run as an excellent opportunity to walk, scoot or cycle as it has been proven to be a great start to the school day.

School Values

Aspiration at Ark Conway

Each week, we discuss and celebrate one of the five core values that characterise Ark Conway. This week, we have seen many examples of aspiration shown by children throughout our school.

Year 3 have been aspiring to produce phenomenal handwriting and are learning how to maintain an exemplary writing posture.

In this week's School Council meeting, the School Councillors from each year group were aspiring to ensure that our school continues to improve!
